

{a blog about everything beautiful}

We're about "all things beautiful" here at Tutto Bella. And, there's nothing more beautiful than a couple saying "I do" to one another, vowing to spend the rest of their life together ... for better or for worse. So, let us share that beauty and inspiration with people all over the world!

We love to receive submissions from brides, photographers, stylists, florists, wedding planners, and even wedding guests. Whether you said I do in the charming mountains, on the beach with the sand in between your toes, in a foreign land or a big city ... we want to see it. Whether you had 2 guests, 50 guests, 1,000 guests or any number in between... we want to see it. Whether it was designer and couture, or on a budget with Do-It-Yourself {DIY} details ... we want to see it. If your wedding was unique, fresh, elegant, charming, DIY, filled with personality, DETAILS, DETAILS, DETAILS, full of gorgeous color, lighting or scenery and of course a couple madly in love ... we want to see it.

If you have a blog, please send the link to your wedding album. You can also post your photos to Flickr or an online photo site and send us the link. And, if you prefer to send your submissions via e-mail, please send them via zip file to trejsorelle@gmail.com. No matter how you get us the photos, please be sure to also include the following information:

one The 4 W's: Who, What, When and Where: Your name, your fiancé's/hubby's name the date and location of your wedding.

two Photos. We would like at least 25 images that you feel best showcase your wedding day. 50-75 images is ideal, and please make sure each image is at least 300 pixels wide (600 dpi preferred). Pictures of the ceremony, reception, getting ready, everything - we want a selection that best captures your day.

three Your Inspiration: We love to hear about your vision and the unique details that made your wedding one-of-a-kind. The more details, the better. We can never have enough details ... seriously!

four Vendor Love: Weddings wouldn't be what they are without the talented people that make them possible. Please list all vendors that you would like to see credited. YOU MUST INCLUDE AT LEAST A PHOTOGRAPHY CREDIT.

We love all weddings because we are hopeless romantics, so we will do our best to feature all of them. However, due to the number of submissions, it is not always possible. But, we promise you that we will do our best to feature all, or at least part of your wedding. We will let you know if we plan to feature it.

P.S. We don't limit ourselves to JUST weddings - we love quirky engagement sessions, engagement parties, invitations and memorable proposals too. Oh, and once those babies arrive ... we love showers, and baby and toddler parties!

We look forward to hearing from you!

We are happy to accept submissions via Two Bright Lights, an easy and convenient resource to submit real weddings.
